

Special Education Law 101: A Workshop for Parents, Guardians & Other Caregivers of Children with Disabilities

The workshop will be offered
three times this fall:

Saturday, October 6, 2018

10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Wilder Branch, Detroit Public Library,
7140 E. 7 Mile Rd.

Saturday, November 3, 2018

10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Sherwood Forest Branch, Detroit
Public Library, 7117 W. 7 Mile Rd.

Saturday, December 1, 2018

10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Chaney Branch, Detroit Public
Library, 16101 Grand River

The workshop is FREE of charge.
Registration in advance is requested (but not required) to ensure adequate seating and materials.

To register, or to request reasonable accommodations, please contact the Wayne Law Disability Law Clinic at 313-577-4015 or dlc@wayne.edu.

This workshop will help parents, guardians and other caregivers of children with disabilities understand and protect their children's rights under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, and the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Topics addressed will include:

- Evaluation & eligibility
- Special education & related services
- Free appropriate public education
- Least restrictive environment
- Individualized education plans
- Complaints, due process hearings & other procedural safeguards

The Disability Law Clinic is a law office at Wayne State University Law School, staffed by second- and third-year law students working under the supervision of a professor who is a licensed Michigan attorney. The Clinic provides free legal help to Detroit-area residents with disabilities in non-criminal matters related to their disabilities (e.g. disability civil rights, special education, health insurance coverage, guardianship/conservatorship, Social Security Disability Insurance/SSI).

WAYNE STATE

Law School

Disability Law Clinic