Communication Changes and Activity Planning for People with Developmental Disabilities (DD) and Dementia

Tuesday, January 30, 10:00am - 12:30pm

Communication Changes in People with DD and Dementia. Join us as we discuss how communication can change for people with DD who develop dementia as well as how caregivers can modify their own communication to be best understood by those they care for. ( 1 hour)

Activity Planning for People with DD and Dementia. Engaging people with DD and dementia in activities is important. Involvement in structured and routine activities can decrease agitation, increase mood and provide meaningful opportunities for engagement. This session will teach participants how to design and implement activities for people with DD during each stage of dementia. (1.5 hours)
