

CONCERT OF COLORS

JULY 11-15, 2018
MIDTOWN DETROIT
FREE ADMISSION

METRO DETROIT'S 26TH ANNUAL DIVERSITY FESTIVAL

Concert of Colors is Metro Detroit's FREE diversity music festival; Full lineup and schedule at www.concertofcolors.com.

On Thursday, July 12, artists, activists and advocates will explore issues surrounding vulnerable communities at the Forum on Community, Culture & Race: State violence, trauma + healing through art. Through performance and dialogue, the Forum grapples with the role of art as a tool for advocacy and community building with performances by Sacramento Knox, choreographer Ananya Chatterjea, singer/songwriter Ani Cordero and Walter Lacy. A keynote address by Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha kicks off the panel discussion that includes DeJuan Bland, Ananya Chatterjea and Ani Cordero. The panel will be moderated by Charles Ezra Ferrell, Vice-President of Public Programs at the Charles H. Wright Museum of African American History. Copies of Dr. Hanna-Attisha's book will be available for purchase and signing by the author. Admission is FREE and light refreshments will be served. RSVP required at <http://bit.ly/2018CoCForum>.
