

NAMICon 2020

A Virtual Event • July 13-14

Together Toward Tomorrow

OUR FIRST VIRTUAL NAMICON!

We are grateful for your patience and support as we transformed our canceled in-person NAMICon into a no-cost virtual event.

Registration is now open!

While this virtual event is free, donations to support NAMI's important work in mental health education, advocacy and awareness are appreciated for those able to contribute. Click here to donate.

Sessions are dedicated to a variety of topics, including:

Plenary session with Joshua Gordon, M.D., Ph.D.
Director of the National Institute of Mental Health, on the challenges and opportunities in mental health research.

The importance of comprehensive and holistic treatment approaches to address the complexities of mental illness.

Why diversity, inclusion and cultural competence are important and how we can address issues like identity, language and demographics.

Research updates regarding various treatments and models.

NAMI and WETA, the flagship PBS station in Washington, D.C., along with other national partners, will launch the Well Beings campaign and host a virtual national town hall.
